Become a Participating Employer

As a participating employer with WA Super, you can provide your employees with many superannuation services and enjoy the benefit of simple administration.

WA Super holds a MySuper licence from APRA, which means you can nominate WA Super as your default super fund.

WA Super is the default fund for Local Government in Western Australia but you may not know that we hold a public offer licence which means that anyone who is able to contribute to super in Australia, can be a member of our fund.
